Disclosure Rules

Cautionary Note on Forward-Looking Statements. This presentation contains forward-looking statements including, without limitation, statements concerning plans, objectives, goals, projections, strategies, future events or performance, and underlying assumptions and other statements, which are not statements of historical facts or guarantees or assurances of future performance. Forward-looking statements may be identified by the use of words like “expect,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “forecast,” “outlook,” “will,” “may,” “might,” “see,” “tend,” “assume,” “potential,” “likely,” “target,” “plan,” “contemplate,” “seek,” “attempt,” “should,” “could,” “would” or expressions of similar meaning. Forward-looking statements reflect management’s evaluation of information currently available and are based on our current expectations and assumptions regarding the timing of the proposed acquisition of the Arkema MMA and PMMA business (the “Acquisition”); estimated and future results of operations, business strategies, competitive position, industry environment and potential growth opportunities and cost synergies relating to the Acquisition; the impact from the COVID-19 pandemic, our business, the economy and other future conditions. Because forward-looking statements relate to the future, they are subject to inherent uncertainties, risks and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of or failure to complete the Acquisition or the agreements and transactions contemplated thereby; our failure to meet the conditions to closing of the Acquisition, including those conditions related to antitrust, works council and other regulatory approvals; the failure to obtain the financing necessary, at terms acceptable to us, to fund the Acquisition; costs related to the proposed Acquisition and the impact of the substantial indebtedness to be incurred to finance the Acquisition; our ability, post-Acquisition, to meet our financial and strategic goals, due to, among other things, our ability to grow and manage growth profitability, maintain relationships with customers and retain key employees; the possibility that following the Acquisition we may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors; our ability to successfully integrate the acquired businesses or generate expected cost savings and synergies from the Acquisition; the ongoing impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and those discussed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, under Part I, Item 1A —“Risk Factors” and elsewhere in our other reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. As a result of these or other factors, our actual results may differ materially from those contemplated by the forward-looking statements. Therefore, we caution you against relying on any of these forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements included in this presentation are made only as of the date hereof. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as otherwise required by law.

Use of non-GAAP measures

In addition to using standard measures of performance and liquidity that are recognized in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”), we use additional measures of income excluding certain GAAP items (“non-GAAP measures”) to explain Trinseo’s performance and liquidity, such as Adjusted Net Income, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA & Adjusted EBITDA margin, Adjusted EPS, Free Cash Flow, and Free Cash Flow Conversion. We believe these measures are useful for investors and management in evaluating business trends, performance, and liquidity each period. These measures are also used to manage our business and assess profitability, as well as to provide an appropriate basis to evaluate the effectiveness of our pricing strategies. Such measures are not recognized in accordance with GAAP and should not be viewed as an alternative to GAAP measures of performance and liquidity, as applicable. The definitions of each of these measures, further discussion of usefulness, and reconciliations of non-GAAP measures to GAAP measures are provided within the appendix herein.

PMMA business financial information

On December 14, 2020, Trinseo announced its entry into a binding offer with Arkema S.A. (“Arkema”), a leader in specialty chemicals, to acquire its polymethyl methacrylates (“PMMA”) and activated methyl methacrylates (“MMA”) businesses (together, referred to herein as the “PMMA business,” the “PMMA Acquisition,” or “PMMA”).

The financial information of the PMMA business provided herein is unaudited and is derived from information provided to Trinseo by Arkema management in conjunction with ongoing due diligence procedures, with various Trinseo management adjustments also reflected. This information has not been conformed to the accounting principles (GAAP) and accounting policies followed by Trinseo. Further, the definitions of performance and liquidity measures of the PMMA business, such as EBITDA and Free Cash Flow, may not align with the definitions of Trinseo. As a result, it may be difficult to use these financial measures to compare the performance of the PMMA business and Trinseo’s performance.

Acquisition Rationale

First Step in Major Transformation to Become a Specialty Solutions Provider

Accelerates Growth in High Value Engineered Materials

Highly Accretive to Earnings, Margins, Growth and Cash Flow, and Reduces Volatility

Significant Cost and Revenue Synergies and Triggers Transformation of IT Systems

Commitment to Strong Balance Sheet and Disciplined Capital Allocation

Trinseo's Transformation to a Downstream Specialty Solutions Provider

Building a Leading Specialties Business

- Embarking on major transformation focused on becoming a downstream specialty solutions provider
- Committed to higher growth, higher margin and less volatile portfolio

€1.137Bn PMMA Acquisition – A Step-Change Transaction

- Highly attractive, global leadership position in Engineered Resins (PMMA)
- Compelling strategic fit that accelerates growth in profitable end markets/Asia
- Strong financial profile and value creation with significant synergies
- Catalyst for transformational process improvements within Trinseo

Purposeful Future Portfolio Changes

- Potential divestiture of Synthetic Rubber considered prior to evaluating transaction
- Commodity elements of portfolio will be assessed to determine maximum long-term value

Disciplined Capital Allocation

- Commitment to balanced capital deployment and a strong balance sheet
- Implementing near-term dividend reduction and share repurchase program suspension to preserve financial flexibility and reduce leverage

Creating Value for Shareholders through Transformation

2. Includes a reduction in purchase price value of €100mm ($120mm) for tax basis step-up.

3. Includes annual run-rate pretax cost synergies of $50mm.

How Did We Get Here – Deliberately

After an 18-month rigorous and deliberate Board-sponsored process, PMMA Acquisition became the clear target

Engineered Materials

- Product adjacency to current compounding materials offering higher performance

Coatings, Adhesives, Sealants (CASE)

- Product adjacency from Binders
- Market adjacency to Construction

Screening Considerations

Rationale Behind Growth Portfolio Definition
Reducing the level of volatility through the cycle

Cash Flow
Low capital intensity with high cash flow

Revenue Growth Expectations
GDP + global growth

Gross Margin
25%+ in new portfolio

Chain Considerations
Cracker + 2 / Cracker + 3

Focus
Position in growth markets

Time to Value
Actionable in near term

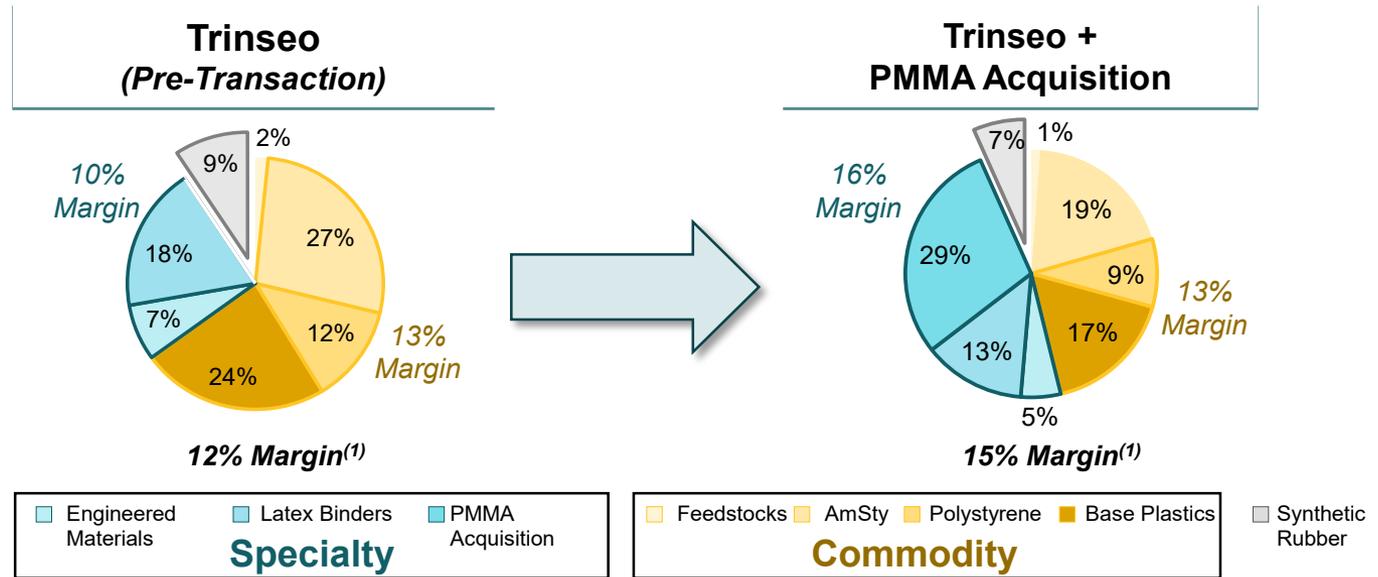

Value Consideration
Price must be reasonable pre/post synergies

Defining the Transformation

Specialty businesses become ~50% of portfolio

2019 Adj. EBITDA Contribution (Adj. EBITDA Margin)

- PMMA broadens and deepens the Engineered Materials product portfolio and shifts towards higher growth and margins vs. existing plastics portfolio
- PMMA is an attractive adjacent chemistry that accelerates Trinseo’s growth in markets such as Automotive, Building & Construction, Medical, Appliances and Consumer Electronics
- Trinseo and the PMMA business can leverage its market and geographic positions to grow in Asia Pacific as well as across each other’s customer bases, market segments and technology positions
- Excellent first step in Trinseo’s portfolio transformation that is expected to ultimately include the separation of some of its commodity businesses

1. Reflects total company EBITDA margin excluding corporate segment costs of $85mm, Trinseo + PMMA includes $50mm run-rate cost synergies.

Acquiring a Leading PMMA Producer in the Americas and Europe with Growth Potential in Asia

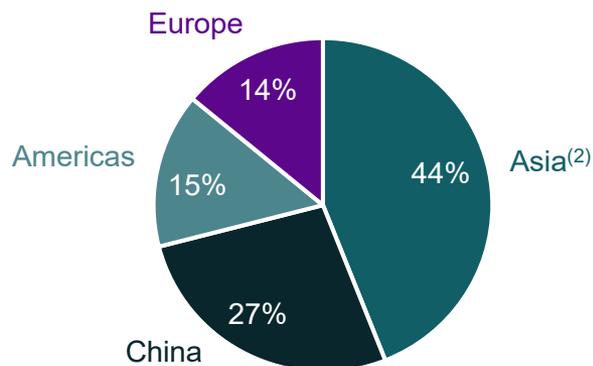

Highly Attractive Market

- Top 5 PMMA suppliers have >50% global market share
 - Top 3 PMMA producers in North America account for 77% of combined resin and sheet capacity
 - Top 4 PMMA producers in Europe have 90% of capacity
- Acquiring a leading PMMA producer in Americas/Europe
 - #1 in North America in molding/extrusion pellets
 - #2 in Europe in molding/extrusion pellet and cast sheets
- Asia represents a significant growth opportunity
- PMMA complements Trinseo's portfolio for sheet extruders, providing a competitive advantage

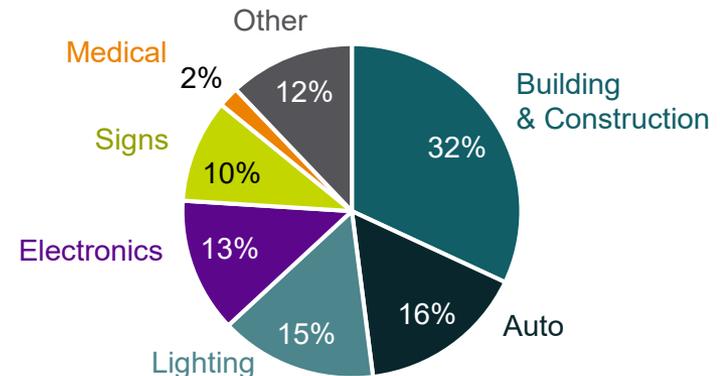

PMMA Acquisition

- Leader in automotive and building & construction, building on Trinseo's already strong positions
- Customer-based development driving higher percentage of differentiated products
- Emphasis on technical services and niche applications
- Strong long-term customer relationships
- High quality products and brand names
- Targeted growth in main market segments by way of customer intimacy, innovation and technical service

Acquisition Creates Value and Drives Significant Cost Savings and Business Process Transformation

3 Vectors of Synergy Value Creation

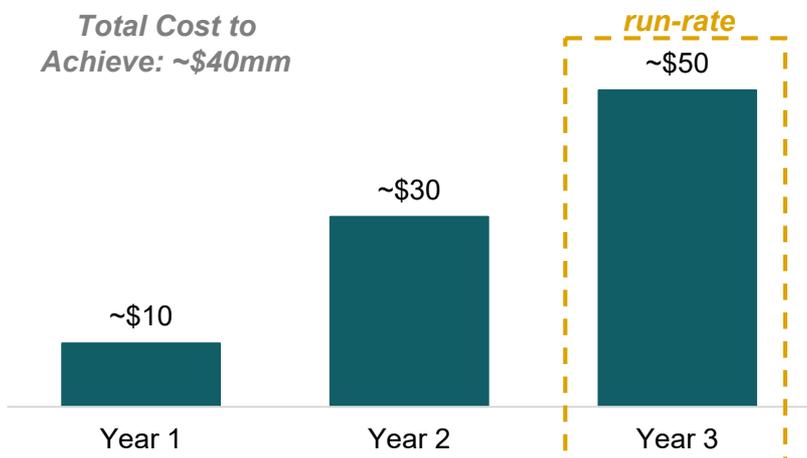

1. One-time cost to achieve synergies of ~$40mm.
2. One-time cost to achieve of ~$50mm

Strategic Acquisition Leads to Significant Synergies

Synergies are distributed across a broad range of functional areas

Summary of Synergy Phasing ($mm)

Total Cost to Achieve: ~$40mm

Trinseo's Demonstrated Record of Delivering Growth and Profit Improvement Initiatives

- Implemented Business Excellence program, consisting of Commercial Excellence, Operational Excellence, Functional Excellence and Supply Chain Excellence
- Took temporary measures to reduce costs by $15mm in 2020 in response to COVID-19
- Reduced structural fixed costs by $25mm per year
- More than tripled variable margin from 2018 to 2020 in Asia ABS by introducing differentiated technology and implementing value pricing

Overview of Cost Synergies

Manufacturing

- Operational excellence
- Streamlining and integration of best practices

Business Transformation

- Enhanced planning accuracy, orders and fulfillment
- Network optimization
- Finance process productivity

Supply Chain / Procurement

- Raw material savings
- Logistics improvement and network optimization
- Cost avoidance through organizational leverage

Commercial / R&D

- Streamlining and integration of functions

Support Functions

- IT synergies through integration of systems
- Streamlining of PMMA's decentralized structure
- Insurance savings through policy consolidation

Commitment to Balance Sheet Flexibility and Balanced Capital Allocation

Transaction Funding and Leverage

- Leverage of mid-3x area at transaction close with targeted deleveraging in the mid-2x area in 2023
- Transaction will be funded with existing cash and new debt issuance
 - Anticipate using up to $250 million cash on hand

Disciplined Capital Allocation to Preserve Flexibility

- Initiation of process to divest synthetic rubber
 - Approached by multiple interested parties
- Prioritization of balance sheet flexibility / deleveraging
 - Reduction in dividend to $0.08 per quarter
 - Suspension of share repurchase program
 - Expect to reinstate appropriate market dividend yield following leverage reduction

Trinseo Guides to Strong Q4 Financial Results

Overview

- Continuation of strong demand from the third quarter into the fourth quarter across many applications including automotive, tires and appliances
- Sustained, higher margins such as in ABS and polystyrene
- Q4 2020 includes a pretax favorable net timing impact of approximately $20 million
- Full-year 2020 includes a pretax unfavorable net timing impact of approximately $35 million
- Expect at least $75 million free cash flow⁽¹⁾ in Q4

(1) Reconciling items to Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Net Income are not typically forecasted by the Company based on their nature as being primarily driven by transactions and events that are not part of the core operations of the business and, as a result, cannot be estimated without unreasonable cost or uncertainty. Given this uncertainty, the reconciling items reflected above do not reflect estimates for the full three and twelve-month periods. Rather, these amounts reflect only known amounts recorded as of the date of this release, relating primarily to the Company's ongoing restructuring programs and strategic initiatives. The income tax expense (benefit) related to these items is estimated utilizing either (1) the estimated annual effective tax rate on our ordinary income based upon our forecasted ordinary income for the full year or, (2) for items treated discretely for tax purposes we utilized the applicable rates in the taxing jurisdictions in which these adjustments occurred.

(2) Weighted average shares calculated for the purpose of forecasting EPS and Adjusted EPS do not forecast significant future share transactions or events, such as repurchases, significant share-based compensation award activity, and changes in the Company's share price. These are all factors which could have a significant impact on the calculation of EPS and Adjusted EPS during the three and twelve months ended December 31, 2020.

NOTE: For definitions of non-GAAP measures and Trinseo management's view on their importance, refer to the accompanying press release furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to our Form 8-K dated December 14, 2020. Totals may not sum due to rounding.
