Topsoe opens office in Tehran and celebrates new the great working relationship with Iran and the companies here that we have enjoyed for many years. I'm glad that we can now look towards future successes," says Mr. Per K. Bakkerud, Executive Vice President of Topsoe's Chemical Business Unit and the EMEA region.

Topsoe's Tehran office will be led by Managing Director Jens Ole Madsen, who has broad management and sales experience from many years with Topsoe and other engineering and cleantech companies.

"I really look forward to picking up on the impressive collaboration, which Iranian petrochemical companies and refineries have had with Topsoe in the past decades. The task ahead for these companies is only matched by the enormous potential that a more energy-efficient and streamlined production will bring. I believe that Topsoe can assist them in making it happen," says Mr. Madsen.

Topsoe has a long history in Iran. The company's founder, Haldor Topsøe, was a friend of Iran and visited the country at several occasions. He also received many high-ranking Iranians at his home in Denmark.
