Ube Industries, JSR Corporation, and Mitsubishi Rayon Reach Basic Agreement to Start Negotiation for Merger of Subsidiaries in ABS Resin Business

TOKYO, May 9, 2016 — Ube Industries, Ltd., JSR Corporation, and Mitsubishi Rayon Co., Ltd. today announced that they have reached basic agreement to start negotiation for the merger of their respective subsidiaries in the ABS resin business. The merger concerns Techno Polymer Co., Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of JSR, and UMG ABS, LTD., which is equally owned by Ube Industries (50%) and Mitsubishi Rayon (50%). The details of the basic agreement are as follows.

1. Details of Basic Agreement

- (1) Ube Industries, JSR, and Mitsubishi Rayon have agreed to negotiate in good faith to conclude a merger agreement and shareholders agreement between Techno Polymer and UMG ABS, seeking to reach a final agreement by October 31, 2016. The main purpose of the merger is to optimize operations, improve manufacturing efficiencies, and secure cost competitiveness for the ABS resin business, in order to secure the stable supply of products in Japan and expand sales in global markets, amid an increasingly severe business environment.
- (2) The basic agreement is not a legally binding agreement. Under the basic agreement, the parties will discuss concrete details regarding a business merger including the percentage of ownership in the merged company and name of the new company. The parties will then gain approval from their respective Boards of Directors and carry out other necessary procedures to reach a legally-binding final agreement.

(3) Schedule

- i) Conduct due diligence, and investigate and study the benefits of the merger: May–September 2016
- ii) Target date of concluding final agreement: October 31, 2016
- iii) Target date of merger: October 1, 2017

The procedure for this business merger will be conducted while submitting required notifications to the government in and outside of Japan including the Japan Fair Trade Commission.
